"DOUBTLESS THE

Best Cough Medicine

IN THE WORLD."

[From one of the Oldest and very best Houses in America.]

MESSRS. CUTLER BROS. & CO.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 13, 1872.

Please send us Ten gross small and Five gross large "Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." This is doubtless the best Cough Medicine in the World. (Signed) ALLEN & CO.

P. S.—These parties have sold this Balsam for over thirty years.

[From one of Boston's most estimable citizens.]

No. 3 Worcester Sq., BOSTON, March 14, 1873.

MESSRS. CUTLER BROS. & CO.,

In ordering another small lot of your invaluable

Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam,

I should like to tell you what I know about it, in order that others may have the benefit of my EXPERIENCE.

Since this Balsam first came to my notice, in 1843, I have kept it constantly in the house, never allowing myself to be out of it overnight. In all these

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS,

It has not failed in a single instance in my own case to give the desired relief, and I will say the same in regard to my mother, whose by it as I cannot but think. Hers was a case of Congestion of the Lungs, and although attended by a most skillful Physician, she seemed to fail constantly, so that we despaired of her recovery, when an old friend and neighbor persuaded her to try this Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. The result was most gratifying, I assure you.

LIFE WAS SAVED

RELIEF WAS IMMEDIATE

and recovery rapid. She is now over 81 years old, and is active and well. Whenever she gets a severe cold, which happens once in a while, she takes thirty to sixty drops, according to the violence of the cough, which has always yielded in a day or two by taking the Balsam only on retiring at night. With it the

IRRITATION

is at once subdued, and a good night's sleep secured. I will mention another case, that of a young lady acquaintance, who

BLED AT THE LUNGS

and coughed frightfully, had night sweats and was fearfully reduced. She left Boston for her country home, 150 miles away, as we supposed to die. I sent her a bottle of your Balsam, and soon had the satisfaction to hear that she was much better. She continued taking it for a while and got and is living now, which fact is to be ascribed mainly to the use of the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM. Very truly yours, JOHN CAPEN.

ENTIRELY WELL,

As there are many imitations, be careful to get the genuine. Price in large bottles, which are much the cheaper, $1.00; small bottles, old style, 50 cents.

Penobscot County Farmers' Club.

On Wednesday last the Penobscot County Farmers Club held its annual meeting at the Court House. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Hebron Luce, as President, and D. M. Dunham, Secretary.

IMPROVING GRASS LANDS.

The election was followed by an interesting relation of experience, by Mr. W. D. Gibbs, of Glenburn. He said that seventeen years ago he bought a farm of 77 acres, for which he ran in debt $800. He commenced to do his work thoroughly. At the outset his farm cut about 25 tons of hay and now it cuts 200 tons. The secret of his success he believes to be in doing the work thoroughly and manuring well. He has used much leached ashes with good effect, and plaster has been found beneficial on dry soil. Much has been accomplished by procuring the best implements. He believes it a matter of economy to remove all obstacles from the land. He now has over 100 acres, and proposes to further increase his hay crop 100 tons within the next five years. He relys altogether upon his grass crop, considering his grain products as secondary. It does not cost him over $2 a ton to gather his hay. He used to work all day in haying, and get it in late, this he finds to have been a great mistake, he now prefers to get it in very green, in the middle of the day, rather than have it wilt dried and got in late. He bought the first mowing-machine that was used in his town, and all his neighbors laughed at him, as a fancy farmer, now most of them admit the utility of the mowing machine. He has a hay-tedder and thinks the day not far distant when they will be generally used by the farmers of Maine. With the mower, horse-rake and tedder he can get in his hay at half the expense of the old method. His experience with commercial manures has been unsatisfactory; he does not believe he can afford to use them. Long years ago he was convinced he had too much cold water on his farm, and practiced top draining. The past year he put in 200 rods of under drain, and proposes to continue under draining to a large extent.

Mr. Irad Fenderson said those present should feel grateful to Mr. Gibbs for his instruction, and especially that he upsets the theory that "farming don't pay."—Farmers should have better implements, better stock and better farming, and then success is sure.

THE NEXT MEETING.

The next meeting of the society will be held in City Hall, January 15th, at which will be discussed the comparative merits of sheep-raising as compared with dairy farming, for this section of the State. In which Hebron Luce will favor the former, and Irad Fenderson will present the claims of the dairy.

BANGOR MARKET.

SATURDAY, Jan. 9, 1875.

FLOUR.—The Western markets are still quoting flour dull, but not making any particular change in the figures, and the winter rates of transportation, with the sales as now quoted, admit of no important change to note in our market from last week's prices.

CORN is selling this week from $1.00 to $1.05 (? $1.01 cents per bushel, according to the sale—measure or weight, 56 pounds.

MEAL.—Corn meal is worth from $1.00 to $1.05 per bushel—50 pounds.

FINE FEED.—Fine middlings are worth from $2.00 to $2.10, coarse do, $1.80 to $2.00, and bran $1.75 to $1.80 per hundred pounds.

OATS.—Canada and Western oats are selling from the stores at 70 to 75 cents per bushel—32 pounds.

GRAHAM FLOUR is worth from $7.00 to $8.00 per bbl.

OAT MEAL is worth $8.50 to $9.50 and $10.00 per bbl.

SALT.—Coarse salt is worth from 35 to 45 cents per bushel, and Bangor butter salt (20 pound boxes) $21 per hundred.

LIME is worth $1.10 to $1.15 per cask.

PLASTER sells at $1.25 per bbl.

CEMENT is worth from $2.00 to $2.10 per cask.

BRICKS are selling in a retail way from the yards at $6.00 to $7.50 and $8.00 per M.

PORK is worth from $23.00 to $27.00 and some thing very extra $28.00 per bbl.

LARD is worth from 15 to 16 and 17 cents according to size and quality of packages, wood or tin.

SUGAR.—Granulated sugar is worth 11 cents, and ex. C do, 10½ to 10¾ cents per pound.

CHEESE are plenty and selling from the stores from 14 to 15 and 16 cents per pound, according to quality.

FISH.—Dry cod fish are worth from 4 50 to $5.00 and $6.00 per 100 pounds, according to size and quality, and pollock do from $3.75 to $4.00.

CANDLES.—Dipped candles are worth 13 to 13½ cents per pound per box—boxes extra.

KEROSENE.—The best qualities are worth from 11 to 14 cents per gallon per bbl.—barrels extra.

DRIED APPLES.—There are plenty of Western dried apples in the market, which are selling from the stores from 9 to 11 cents per pound, according to quality.—barrels extra.

Produce Market.

HAY.—On account of stormy weather and bad travelling, there has been but a small quantity of hay on the market during the week, but no particular change in price, yet the market men appreciate the advantage of their loads selling much more readily. The price of loose hay takes the range of from $12 to $14, and the very best qualities $15 per ton.

PRESSED HAY might be quoted from $13 to $15, and some very extra lots $16 per ton, according to quality and condition of the bales for shipping.

LOOSE STRAW is worth from $7.00 to $8.00 per ton—nice, clean oat straw bringing the latter price.

OATS are selling on the market at 65 cents per bushel—30 pounds.

BARLEY is brought into market very sparingly, though it now finds a ready sale at 85 cents to $1.00 per bushel—48 pounds.

BEANS.—Yellow eyed beans are the only variety that are inquired for on the market, on account of being of better quality for shipping, or ship stores, than the white ones. They are now worth from $2.75 to $3.00, and some very extra hand-picked lots $3.00 per bushel—64 pounds.

BUTTER.—The quotations for two or three weeks past would apply to market to-day, for the supply is in numerous small lots, and just about in keeping with the demand—winter made and mixed sweet lots selling from 25 to 28 and 30 cents, but a good article of yellow lump is worth from 32 to 33, and what the butter dealers would call an extra article, 35 cents per pound.

EGGS.—Small, fresh lots from the hands of the farmer are selling on the market at 35 cents per dozen.

POTATOES brought into market without being chilled, are worth from 60 to 65 cents per bushel.

TURNIPS are worth from 40 to 50 cents per bushel—50 pounds.

GREEN APPLES are worth from $1.00 to $2.00 and some choice $2.50 to $3.00 per bbl.

CIDER.—A good article, up to the best quality, is worth on the market from 15 to 20 cts. per gallon.

DRIED APPLES.—Home raised, quartered fruit we should quote as being worth on the market from 8 to 9 for fair to good lots, and very extra ones would probably sell at 10 cts. per pound; but green apples have been very plenty, and as yet there is very little inquiry for dried fruit.

CHICKENS are worth from 15 to 18 and 20 cents per pound.

TURKEYS are in small supply this week, and sell readily from 16 to 18 and 20 cents per pound, according to the size and quality of the birds.

GEESE are not at all plenty on the market, and of late years seem to be more particularly a holiday bird; they are worth from 16 cents to $1.00 and $1.25 each.

ROUND HOGS are worth from 10 to 10½, and some extra ones 11 cents per pound.

FRESH BEEF sells from the market teams from 8 to 10 and 11 cents, though occasionally a very extra side sells at 11½ or 12 cents per pound.

MUTTONS are worth from 7 to 8 cents per pound.

LAMBS are worth from 8 to 9 cents per pound.

WOOL SKINS are worth from $1.25 to $1.75, and some very extra ones, $2.00 each.

WOOL is worth from 30 to 40 and some extra lots 45 cents per pound.

HIDES are selling from 7 to 7½ cents per pound.

COAL for kitchen and furnace use is worth from $9.00 to $9.50 per ton. Charcoal sells in the streets at one shilling per bushel.

WOOD.—Good dry hard wood sells in the streets from $6.00 to $7.00, and soft do, from $4.00 to $5.00 per cord.

Saturday afternoon, 2d inst., as Cean Courier, of Camden, was driving a load of iron down to the Anchor Factory, one of the barrels rolled on him and threw him down, with his head just before the wheel. The wheel passed on to his head, which served as a check, and rested there until he was relieved by a gentleman near by. His head was badly bruised and the skin taken partially off his face; in a short time he recovered sufficiently to be able to take charge of his team.

Intelligence has been received that Mr. Eugene Cobb, formerly of Camden, who has been at Shanghai, China, for about five years, died on the 25th of last November. Mr. Cobb had been out of health for some time, and took a trip to Japan in the hope of improving it, and while there was taken with a fever and died. He leaves a wife.

A son of Danly L. Creamer, at Kaler's Corner, Waldoboro, cut off a thumb with an axe, last week.

It is expected that the county lodge of Good Templars will convene at Waldoboro some time this month.

The hall at South Waldoboro has been a paying investment, for the stockholders, a dividend of two per cent. having been declared on last year's business.

The repairs on the Baptist church cost two thousand dollars, and the organ, one thousand, making a total of three thousand dollars. On New Year's night these bills had all been paid and the society are free from debt.

The Lincoln County News says that a gentleman, who is in a position to know, expresses the opinion that the amount of tonnage to be built in the district of Waldoboro in 1875, will equal that of 1874. Not so many vessels will be constructed but they will be of a larger class.

A correspondent of the Observer writes: Eleven and one-fourth tons of No. 1 Iron, produced in twenty-four hours, is the highest amount yet reached at the Katahdin Iron Works, but there is no doubt but what the furnace can be made to yield fifteen tons in that length of time, and make on an average from ten to twelve tons daily.

Following are the officers of the County Agricultural Society for the ensuing year: President—A. M. Robinson; Vice-Presidents—Mordecai Mitchell, E. A. Thompson, Lyman Lee; Secretary and Treasurer—D. Senator Anthony is confined to his house by throat troubles.

DOMESTIC BARBERING.—You can always tell a boy whose mother cuts his hair. Not because the edges of the hair look as if they had been chewed off by an absent-minded horse, but you know it by the way he stops on the street, and wriggles his shoulders. When a fond mother has to cut her boy's hair, she is careful to avoid any annoyance and muss by laying a sheet on the carpet. It has never yet occurred to her to set him over a bare floor, and put the sheet around his neck. Then she draws the front hair over his eyes and leaves it there while she cuts that which is at the back.

The hair which lies over his eyes appears to be surcharged with electric needles, and that which is silently dropping down under his shirt band appears to be on fire. She has unconsciously continued to push his head forward until his nose presses his breast, and is to busily engaged to notice the snuffling sound that is becoming alarmingly frequent. In the mean time he is seized with an irresistible desire to blow his nose, but recollects that his handkerchief is in the other room. Then a fly alights on his nose and does it so unexpectedly that he involuntarily dodges, and catches the point of the shears in his left ear. At this he commences to cry and wish he was a man.

But his mother doesn't notice him. She merely hits him on the other ear, to inspire him with confidence. When she is through, she holds his jacket collar back from his neck, and with her mouth blows the short bits of hair from the top of his head down his back. He calls her attention to this fact, but she looks for a new place on his head and hits him there, and asks him why he didn't use his handkerchief. Then he takes his awfully disfigured head to the mirror and looks at it, and, young as he is, shudders as he thinks of what the boys on the street will say.

WORTH SEEING.—There is a small, private museum near the British Museum, London, which is well worth a visit. It is a charming place, filled with curious and interesting things, which was collected by Sir John Soane, who, being an architect, built his home to accommodate his treasures, and at his death presented it to the city. There are many models of noted buildings, especially a set of eighteen temples and towers of Athens and Pompeii, not over fifteen inches in height, but said to be perfect representations. The upper rooms contain many fine pictures, among others the originals of "Hogarth's Rake's Progress", and one room is filled from floor to ceiling with paintings. Passing from this room, having, as I supposed, seen them all, a gentleman said to me "You haven't seen all the paintings in that room." I turned back, thinking sure he was mistaken, whereupon he proceeded to turn the room inside out, in other words, by an ingenious arrangement of shutters the walls are covered with three sets of pictures, so that by having seen the room once, it by any chance you should stray into it after the shutters have been turned back, you would certainly believe yourself in a new room. The house is filled with surprises. At one place you think you are going into a room filled with paintings and statuary, but instead you walk up to a long mirror and the next you wish to see are back of you. A lovely bust or vase has a mirror opposite, so that for an instant you are sure there is a pair on opposite sides of the room. Again having been deceived by mirrors you think you see one, and turn to examine the things reflected, when they are not to be seen.

Turning again you find instead plate-glass windows, which allow you to see rooms three stories high, lighted from above by skylights, and the walls covered with vases, busts and pictures, all lovely, but too distant for some other reason possessing an interest beyond mere beauty. Even the basement is filled with models of antique statuary and busts, and contains the curiosity of the place, which is an alabaster sarcophagus covered with hieroglyphics. Although three inches thick, it is so clear that a light placed inside shows perfectly. There are twenty-four rooms in all and they are furnished nearly as when Soane lived in them. The upper ones contain collections of coins, medals and jewelry, curious clocks and watches, and a set of chairs and a table of carved ivory which were brought from Tippoo Saib's palace in Seringapatam.

It is stated that the "Hay-mow" Democracy of New York are disgusted with Gov. Tilden's verbose harping over the old eras of Jackson, Van Buren, Wright, &c. The following comments were heard from this class after the delivery of his message:—"What an old fool!" "I tell you," at Syracuse, rejoined another, "Why, he's worse than an Alderman!"

"CURSING THE JUDGE."

Four years ago, when the Portland Advertiser insulted the Republican majority of the Maine Legislature for not following its advice in the selection of a United States Senator, it pleaded in response to our rebuke that an old custom permits a party defeated in litigation to work off his wrath by cursing the Judge for twenty-four hours. At that time the Portland Press did not approve the exercise of such a privilege, but was emphatic in protesting against aspersions upon the conduct of an intelligent majority. It has evidently fallen into a different humor now, and instead of accepting its conspicuous defeat as gracefully as possible, or of profiting by the sharp lesson so recently administered, it now rails in a silly and offensive manner at the action of the heavy Republican majority, whom it sought to browbeat and deceive. Before leaving Augusta we were informed that a more commendable course had been determined upon; that the arbitrament appealed to was to be accepted in good faith, and that the Press would now seek to harmonize rather than to foster dissension in the party. Acting upon that information, and with a desire to spare the feelings of those who had made so ridiculous a fiasco in attempting to stampede the Republican party of Maine, we refrained from exultation and sought to throw the mantle of charity over the recent unhappy record of the Press. That journal, however, seems to desire to prolong the exhibition of its unfortunate plight; and having incurred the displeasure of the people generally by its persistent abuse of Senator Hamlin, it is determined to disgust the remainder by berating the Legislature for failing to sympathize with its folly.

Its reports from Augusta have been grossly unfair and distorted, especially that of the Senatorial caucus. The remarks of Dr. Tefft were carefully mutilated and the impression conveyed that Mr. Keegan was arbitrarily excluded from the caucus was entirely unwarranted. The reporter states that it was voted that he was not "lost," and sarcastically adds, "possibly because the church is full." Not a word is said of the real point involved, which was plainly stated by Mr. Wilson, that if Mr. Keegan did not feel in honor bound to support the nominee, he had no right to participate in the nomination. Instead of exhibiting an arrogant or illiberal spirit as represented by the Press, all present know that the friends of Mr. Hamlin conceded the widest latitude of debate and admission to the voting. The unfairness and prejudice exhibited in the report of the Press could hardly have been more conspicuous in a Democratic journal.

Now it exhibits the same spirit in its editorial columns. On Saturday, in an article commencing "The Senatorial contest is all over and Mr. Hamlin has again been successful, it declares that those who so shamefully reviled him "have nothing to regret and nothing to take back." They still feel that they represent a "great popular sentiment," and evidently entertain a lofty contempt for what the editor of the Press so patronizingly designates as "the average legislator." It affirms that the grand flourish which commanded a single vote clearly escaped being a revolution and says it can readily see how Mr. Hamlin's majority might have been a minority had the judgment of men been untrammelled"—in other words it intimates that a majority of members falsified their oaths and belied their own convictions in acting contrary to the orders of the Press. This is certainly rather high-toned for a journal which has so recently been sharply rebuked for impertinence, and the members of the Legislature will hereafter understand how much better the Portland paper understands their duties than they do themselves.

But it offers a special insult to the delegation from this county in the following cool remark:

"We think that no one will make a question that Mr. Hamlin would have been defeated had one-half or even one-third of the Penobscot delegation felt free to follow their inclination, by giving their votes to Judge Peters. Such action would have found ready response in Aroostook, Hancock, Knox and Waldo, and the break in the Hamlin ranks thus made would have been irretrievable."

We have some acquaintance with the members of the Penobscot delegation and we think that if the editor of the Press will examine their heads, he will find them all quite as level as his own. They are citizens who stand quite as reputably in their communities, and whose judgment would generally be regarded quite as sound as that of our contemporary. The insinuation that these gentlemen voted otherwise than according to their own convictions is an impertinence which no one of them will fail to resent. And the statement that the members from three or four other counties would have been led around by the nose had three or four Penobscot men ordered them to support Mr. Peters, is equally insulting and absurd. The truth is that the Press made a great noise about nothing, and succeeded in engineering the most ridiculous "fizzle" that has occurred in the whole history of Maine politics.

The following paragraph is characteristic of the Press:

"We should be guilty of an injustice not to give the tribute of acknowledgment to the highly artistic manner in which Mr. Hamlin's campaign was fought by his accomplished lieutenants, under the capable guidance of Marshal Marble, chief of staff."

No one knows better than the editor of the Press that Mr. Hamlin needed no "lieutenants" at Augusta, as his campaign had already been fought before the people. The sarcastic allusion to Hon. S. S. Marble comes weakly from the ambitious young politician whose feathers were so sadly ruffled at Augusta. Mr. Marble, who fought the battles of the Republican party when the editor of the Press was in pinafores, can afford to smile at the spite of that unfortunate journal. His demeanor at the State Capital during the Senatorial canvass will certainly compare most favorably with that of the little junta who were conspiring with prominent Democrats for the disruption of the Republican party. Brother Pullen would probably have preferred that himself and Tom Reed, and A. P. Morrill, and J. H. Butler, and S. D. Leavitt, and E. F. Pillsbury, should have had a monopoly of the field; but fortunately it was otherwise, and a number of nicely-laid schemes were of necessity indefinitely postponed—instead of the Senatorial caucus.

Our Portland neighbor evidently feels that he ought to be permitted to run the politics and legislation of this State, but the result of his experiments is not calculated to inspire anxiety for such leadership. He first appealed to the people at the polls, then repudiated their verdict and appealed to the Legislature, and now that he has been turned out of doors with a single vote, he takes revenge upon the gentlemen whom he so recently asked for support. We are sure that, in taking this churlish course the Press has disappointed its best friends; and we are sure that the gentlemen who compose the Republican majority in the Legislature of Maine will retain some confidence in their own honesty and intelligence, notwithstanding the supercilious lecturing of the editor of "the leading Republican journal of the State."

SENATOR HAMLIN'S RENOMINATION.

[From the Boston Journal]

The vote of the Republican Senatorial caucus at Augusta Thursday evening proves that the information of The Journal in regard to the matter from the outset has been correct. We knew that it was the wish of a most decided majority of the Republicans of Maine that Senator Hamlin should continue to serve them and the country in the sphere where he has been so steadfast and so useful for nearly a quarter of a century. After having been in the Senate some time as the representative of the more liberal wing of the old Democratic party, he was returned as the associate of Hale and Sumner and Wilson, to represent the free soil sentiment of New England. He was their worthy compeer when their principles were put to fiery trial, and he is now their successor at a time when their cause never more urgently needed judicious and effective championship. The Republican masses of the country are under obligations to their brethren in Maine for this serviceable act. Rotation in office may be useful on occasions, if not as a rule; but when the strong men of the Republic are disappearing too fast from public life, it is surely advisable to retain one who, like Mr. Hamlin, has only grown in efficiency as he has in service, and whose next six years in the Senate promise to be the best of his whole career, and certainly could not be approached in usefulness by the substitution of any new man, no matter how gifted and devoted.

We trust that, strengthened and encouraged by this endorsement of his constituents, and the general Republican sympathy of the country, Mr. Hamlin will use his full power and influence in the present political exigency. He knows the best sentiment of New England, he is as a position to disregard all bifocal or merely partisan influences, and to give such advice as sound principle alone requires. The composition of the Senate is now such as to invest his course with peculiar weight. We hope much, therefore, from his ripe experience, his accurate intelligence, great political wisdom and disinterested purposes.

[From the Providence Journal.]

Senator Hamlin's usual good fortune attends him in the present Senatorial canvass. Notwithstanding the newspaper talk concerning his desperate chances, the Republican Legislative caucus at Augusta, last night, nominated him for re-election by the complimentary vote of seventy-nine, to thirty-nine for all others, on the first ballot. Judge Peters withdrew his name before the ballot was taken. In the present aspect of affairs, the Republicans of Maine desire to try no experiments. In Hannibal Hamlin they have a man tried and approved in the great crises of the nation.

FAMILIAR TONES.

[From the Bangor Commercial, Jan. 9.]

It is apparent that Gen. Sheridan was sent to New Orleans, not to pacify, but to goad to desperation the people of Louisiana, to the end that a new rebellion might be proclaimed, and that the whole land might en[illegible] be made to resound with the recruiting fife and drum.

Is it any wonder that the people of Boston are once more summoned by the alarum bell to the Old Cradle of Liberty to declare anew the devotion to her cause, and to resist as did their fathers of old, a hundred years ago, the threatened invasion of her sacred citadel? Is there any wonder that the great heart of the Metropolis is moved, and that it goes out in deep toned sympathy for the threatened homes of the dwellers in the fair valley of the Father of Waters?

[From the Bangor Democrat, February, 1861.]

"The retaking of the forts and arsenals in the seceded States is an impossibility. It cannot be done. The people of the North should not lose a moment in raising their voice against the purpose of the President-elect—a purpose which in barbarity only finds a parallel in that of George the Third towards his subjects in America."

[From the same just after the fall of Fort Sumter.]

"Democrats of Maine!—The loyal sons of the South have gathered around Charleston as your fathers of old gathered around Boston, in defence of the same sacred principles of Liberty—principles which you have upheld and defended with your vote, your voice, and your strong right arm. Your sympathies are with the defenders of the truth, and the right. Those who have inaugurated this unholy and unjustifiable war, are no friends of Democratic Liberty! Will you aid them in their work of subjugation and tyranny?"

If the editor of the Commercial will carefully read over his predictions and statements concerning the Senatorship during the past few weeks, and then pass his hand gently over the top of his head, we think he will not feel inclined to say much more on the subject of "scalps."

Among the incidents of the recent Senatorial caucus, it is stated that the oldest member of the House, Jeremiah Evans, Esq., of Waldo, and the member who has longest served in that body, Daniel Randall, Esq., of Aroostook, voted for Senator Hamlin. It is also worthy of note that twenty-seven years ago, Nathan White, Esq., of Bucksport, voted for Mr. Hamlin at his first nomination for the Senate, and last Thursday evening, Ambrose White, Esq., a son of the former, cast his vote for Mr. Hamlin's renomination.

"A FUNNY POLITICAL PROCLAMATION, AND A FUNNY MISTAKE." Under the above head the Ellsworth American comments upon the card first telegraphed to the Portland Press and then published by us.

This reminds us of the Irishman tried for stealing a shovel. Five witnesses swore they saw him do it, and nine swore they didn't see him do it, and Pat was triumphantly acquitted. It strikes us that the twenty-three Senators and Representatives-elect of the Penobscot delegation know better than the signers to the above card whether or not they were committed to vote for some certain man for U. S. Senator, and that the card would have somewhat more of authority if signed by them. This move is a little to thin. "The lady doth protest too much, methinks."

The funniest sequel to this stunning card is that the Portland Press, eager to seize on straws, publishes the card so that it reads exactly the opposite of its intended and expressed meaning, viz.: "we do consider them committed to vote for any one man for U. S. Senator," which was exactly the statement of THE WHIG. The silliness of the card and the laughable blunder of the Press score one for THE WHIG this time.

The good effect of the Louisiana agitation is to induce the editor of the New York World to read the Bible. He is trying to compare the President to Pharaoh.

The Portland Advertiser says Congressman Burleigh was indebted to Dr. Wentworth's friends for his first nomination. What a poor way he seems to have of showing his gratitude?—[Portsmouth Chronicle.

Popular Lectures

UPON

SCIENCE,

At Music Hall.

In accordance with the desire of many who had the pleasure of listening to the highly interesting "Sketches of Animal Life" two years ago and with the purpose of affording to the people of Bangor such opportunity for the union of culture and amusement as are usually confined only to the largest cities, several citizens of Bangor have engaged

PROF. EDWARD S. MORSE,

Of Salem, Mass., to deliver a Course of Three Illustrated Lectures upon

"The Theory of Evolution."

These lectures will present in a popular manner the leading features in the theory of evolution, as illustrating the present condition of animals upon the globe. It will be shown at the outset that evolution is not the result of blind chance. Curious features regarding protective coloring, the agency of insects in the fertilization of flowers, curious adaptations of certain plants, remarkable habits of animals, wonders of growth and reproduction, and very many curious and interesting facts bearing upon the subject will be brought out.

The theories regarding the origin of man, with many facts not yet published, will be presented. These lectures will be fully illustrated by black board drawings, and rendered quite free from technicalities.

From many notices of the Press, the following is selected as testifying to the familiar language, the character of the illustrations, and the interest with which audiences of a general character are prepared.

[From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.]

It is not often that a truly scientific man gets the power of translating the diction of science into familiar discourse. And it is yet more rare to find that a public lecturer upon scientific subjects has the happy skill of drawing rapidly and accurately, diagrams illustrating his theme. Those who attended the lectures of Professor Edward S. Morse, of Salem, Mass., given at the Academy of Music under the auspices of the Franklin Institute, were greatly surprised and delighted with his skill as a delineator and instructor. At every lecture, and drawing with singular felicity the different objects of which he treated, he unfolded, with great clearness of thought and simplicity of language, the orderly stages of growth in organic existences. From first to last the delighted audience passed from surprise to surprise at the wonders of created life. The lectures was as entertaining as it was edifying, and no one present failed to receive an extensive addition of knowledge in a department of science usually regarded as the exclusive field of the savant. The Institute deserves the thanks of the community for the intellectual feast of the hour.

The Proceeds of these Lectures and of others of a similar character which may be given, will be devoted to charitable purposes, the balance remaining after paying expenses for this course will be devoted to the Home for Aged Women.

The three lectures will be given on FRIDAY evening, January 1, FRIDAY evening, January 8, and THURSDAY evening, January 14.

Tickets with secured seats for the course will be for sale at the store of D. Bugbee & Co. on and after Monday, Dec. 28.

Tickets for a single lecture to be obtained on and after Thursday, Dec. 31. Course tickets, $1. Single lecture, 50 cents.

Doors open at 7, Lecture to commence at 8. dec12

ALABAMA

The Outrage Investigation

LIVINGSTON, SUMTER CO., Jan 9. [illegible] Albright and Buckner of the Alabama Investigating Committee [illegible] concluded four days investigation at this place. Many witnesses were examined. The killing of Billings and Ivey and the whipping of the negro Boyd was proved [illegible] no proof connecting the Conservatives with political motives. Evidence was offered to show that the York black riot originated in a strife between the negroes [illegible] the distribution of Government bacon, and that the attempts to quell the disorder resulted in a combination of the [illegible] against the whites and an attack by the [illegible] who subsequently transferred their operations to the adjacent town of [illegible] the river, and into this county [illegible] demonstration was suppressed by the civil authorities without [illegible]. The reported outrages [illegible] proved mere inventions.

It appeared by the testimony that in this county the United States authorities made arrests and seized horses and carried away private property without warrant. The same authorities took possession of the jail. A colored Democrat was arrested without warrant and imprisoned, and was subsequently discharged without examination, and while imprisoned the military guard threatened to shoot him if he did not furnish information which he could not give. It was also proof that Bob Reid declared he would carry "Sumpter county or ride chin-deep in blood." In refutation of charges of intimidation of Republican voters, evidence was given that in the last election the Republican vote of this county increased 33 per cent over Grant's vote in 1872. This is sustained by official returns.

WISCONSIN.

The New Diocese.

MILWAUKEE, Jan 9. The Diocese of Wisconsin, having been divided (with assent of the late Triennial Convention), a convention met at Fond du Lac yesterday to organize a diocese which consists of twenty Northeastern counties of the State. It was resolved to name it the Diocese of Fond du Lac. To-day the convention proceeded to the election of a Bishop. There were thirteen ballots taken. On one of these Dr. Tenbroeck, of LaCrosse, had a majority of the lay votes, and on another Dr. DeKoven, of Racine College, had a majority of the clerical votes. The 13th ballot resulted in the unanimous election by both orders of Dr. Leighton Coleman, Rector of Trinity church, Toledo.

AFFAIRS IN LOUISIANA.

Judge Dibble's Letter to Mr. Foster, Giving the History of Louisiana since 1871.

NEW YORK, Jan 9. A special from New Orleans contains a letter from Judge Dibble, to Chairman Foster, of the Congressional Committee. He rehearses from a Republican standpoint the history of Louisiana since 1871, including the election in 1872, which he claims was carried legitimately for Kellogg, but being almost thwarted from the results of that election by the alliance of Warmoth the extraordinary and revolutionary proceedings of that time were resorted to resulting in Kellogg's installation. This Government of Kellogg was established by revolution and armed intervention of the powers of the Federal Government. He then refers to the administration of Kellogg, during two years, stating it has reduced the taxes, checked indiscriminate appropriations for private purposes and curtailed on the Government [illegible] for several hundred thousand dollars less than before. But it receives only bitterness, opposition and hatred. Sullen discontent was fostered by a partisan press which found vent in numerous acts of violence and bloodshed, notably the massacre in Grant parish, the assassination of Judge Crawford and the District Attorney of his court, the disturbance at Attakapas, in the [illegible] at Coushatta and innumerable [illegible] assaults and acts of oppression and intimidation against the blacks in different parts of the State. Finally this spirit of discontent was organized and manifested itself in a politico-military body which took the name of the White League. This body was under direct [illegible] and they used their best energies for the destruction of the State Government. They were to carry the election right or wrong. The events of the 14th of September was unpremeditated. He refers briefly to the election of 1874, saying the events are historical and [illegible] the evil [illegible] to the Congressional Committee [illegible] the fact that the opposition supported by the White League as a military organization had [illegible] plan for the seizure of the State Government by a bold coup d'etat, but again occurred a counter revolution [illegible] coup d'etat was rudely prevented by the timely interference of Federal bayonets. He closes as follows: With this historical resume before you, I now ask you in to consider with me the inquiry, had this inquiry Republican form of Government [illegible] answer without hesitation and unequivocally, No! The existing Government is not the product of a election duly as ob[illegible] by the process of law, but of a revolution or rather of counter revolution set up on [illegible] to check in that. It is not my purpose to discuss the clause of the Constitution which guarantees to each State a Republican form of Government with the purpose to define such form of Government. I will rest contented with the suggestion. I have called the attention of Congress to the existing Government in the [illegible] of the State which is not Republican in form. What then is the duty of Congress? Our position is noted. Failed from that we occupied in 1867. [illegible] State was then constructed [illegible] [illegible] with the experience we have had we can do better. We can [illegible] I am not [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] equal justice for [illegible].

Reported Remarks of Cabinet Officials on the Late Events

A Washington special says Secretary Fish states that he did not receive it of Belknap's despatch [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] as to who ordered De Trobriand to do what he did. Both full reports [illegible] Secretary Bristow [illegible] Belknap's speeches [illegible] [illegible] information of De Trobriand [illegible] Secretary Belknap [illegible] [illegible] on the subject. Secretary Robeson [illegible] [illegible] Secretary Delano is [illegible] Washington. Postmaster General Jewell [illegible] [illegible] legal right of the President to send troops into any State, but views with apprehension any armed interference of a State even to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. Judge [illegible] Attorney General Williams said not having official [illegible] he might not express any opinion. He did not understand Sheridan's [illegible] all the Southern people as banditti, but only the ringleaders of the White League. According to his information this conveys a pretty correct idea of their character.

General Sherman's Opinion

A St Louis despatch says General Sherman has expressed his belief that there [illegible] [illegible] in Louisiana [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Sherman thinks it would [illegible] with [illegible] satisfaction to all parties.

A Brief Report from Gen Sheridan—The Feeling Previous to the Meeting of the Legislature

WASHINGTON, Jan [illegible]. Gen Sheridan has sent the following official despatch to Secretary Belknap:

I have the honor to submit the following brief report of affairs as they occurred [illegible] the reconstruction of the State Legislature on January 4th 187[illegible]. I was not in command of this military department on [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] willing to be held responsible for the acts of the military in [illegible] [illegible] public [illegible] of the [illegible]. During the few days [illegible] to the 4th of January the general topic of conversation was the amount of bloodshed that were to be on that day, and I repeatedly heard threats of assassinating the Governor, and regrets expressed that he was not killed on the 14th of September [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the Republican members of the House in order to secure the election of a Democratic Speaker.

Why Troops were Stationed about the State House

I also knew of kidnapping by the [illegible] of one of the members-elect of the Legislature. In order to preserve peace and make the State House safe for a peaceable assembling of the Legislature, Gen Emory, upon the requisition of the Governor, stationed troops in the vicinity of the building. Owing to these precautions the Legislature assembled in the State House without any disturbance of the peace at 12 o'clock.

The Roll Call

Wm Vigers, the clerk of the last House of Representatives, proceeded to call the roll as according to law he was empowered to do. One hundred and two legally returned members answered to their names. Of this number 52 were Republicans and 50 Democrats. Before entering the House Mr L A Wiltz had been selected in caucus as the Democratic nominee for Speaker and Michael Hahn as the Republican nominee.

How the Democrats Proceeded to Steal the Speakership

Mr Vigers had not finished announcing the result when one of the members, Mr Billeu of La Fourche, nominated L. A. Wiltz for temporary speaker. Vigers promptly declared the motion out of order at that time, when some one put the question and amid cheers on the Democratic side of the House, Wiltz dashed on to the rostrum, pushed aside Vigers, seized the speaker's gavel and declared himself Speaker.

Other Offices Seized—A Sudden but "Conservative" Way of Making Sergeants-at-Arms

A protest against this arbitrary and unlawful proceeding was promptly made by members of the majority, but Wiltz paid no attention to these protests, and on motion of some one on the Democratic side of the House, it was decided that one Trezevant was nominated and elected Clerk of the House. Trezevant at once sprang forward and occupied the Clerk's chair, amid the wildest confusion over the whole House. Wiltz then on another nomination from the Democratic side declared one Blood Sergeant-at-Arms and ordered a certain number of assistants to be appointed. Instantly a large number of men throughout the Hall, who had been admitted on various pretexts, such as reporters, members' friends and spectators, turned down the lapels of their coats upon which were found blue ribbon badges on which were printed in gold "Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms," and the Assembly was in the possession of the minority, and the White League of Louisiana had made good its threat of seizing the House, many of the Assistant Sergeants-at-Arms being well known as captains of White League companies in this city.

A Protest from the Republicans.

Notwithstanding the suddenness of this movement the leading Republican members had not failed to protest again and again against this revolutionary action of the minority, but all to no purpose and many of the Republicans rose and left the House in a body, together with the Clerk, Mr Vigers, who carried with him the original roll of the House as returned by the Secretary of State [illegible]

"Conservative" Peace-makers, Knives and Pistols

The excitement was now very great and the acting Speaker directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to prevent the egress or ingress of members and others, and several exciting scuffles with knives and pistols drawn took place and for a few moments it seemed as if bloodshed would ensue.

The Troops Sent for to Clear the Lobby

At this juncture Mr Dupre, the member from Orleans parish, moved that the military power of the General Government be invoked to preserve peace and that a committee be appointed to wait on Gen De Trobriand and the commander of the United States troops stationed at the State House and request his assistance in clearing the lobby. The motion was adopted and a committee of five, of which Mr Dupre was made chairman, was sent to wait upon Gen De Trobriand and soon returned with that officer, who was accompanied by two of his staff officers.

The Legislature Thank General Trobriand for Restoring Order

Mr Wiltz [illegible] it was not necessary [illegible] upon the [illegible] [illegible] proceeded to the lobby and addressed a few words to the excited crowd and peace was at once restored. On motion of Mr Dupre, Mr Wiltz then in the name of the General Assembly of Louisiana thanked De Trobriand for his interference in behalf of law and order and the General withdrew.

A Petition from the Republican members

The Republicans had now generally withdrawn from the Hall and united in sending a petition to the Governor calling their grievances and asking his aid, which petition signed by 52 legally returned members of the House is in my possession.

Making New Members

Immediately subsequent to the action of Wiltz in ejecting the Clerk of the old House, Mr Billeu moved that two gentlemen from the parish of De Soto, one from Winn, one from Bienville and one from Rapides, who had not been returned by the Returning Board, be sworn in as members and they were then sworn in by Mr Wiltz and took their seats on the floor as members of the House.

The Military Sent in

A motion was made that the House proceed with its permanent organization and accordingly the roll was called by Mr Trezevant, the acting Clerk. Wiltz was declared speaker and Trezevant Clerk of the House. Acting on the protest made by the majority of the House, the Governor now requested the commanding General of the department to aid him in restoring order and [illegible] the legally returned members of the House to proceed with the organization according to law. Republican Congressmen on Louisiana Troubles

The Republicans of the House held a caucus to-night. Mr Maynard was Chairman and Gen[illegible] [illegible] Secretary. Mr White, of Alabama, offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of 7 members to draft a general bill with a few to secure the rights of all citizens of the South. In his remarks he referred to the alleged outrages and urged the immediate necessity of action, if they desired to be true to their professions, as Republicans and friends of constitutional liberty. Mr Dawes said he was desirous of affording requisite relief, and wanted some plan to be presented as a remedy for the outrages on citizens of the South. Mr Cessna, in the course of his remarks, approved of Sheridan's course. Mr Sypher, of Louisiana, said the necessary remedy was to protect the people of the South who had been enfranchised as an experiment by the Republican party. Mr Wilson, of Indiana, desired an amendment instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill for a new election in Louisiana.

Mr Butler spoke in favor of the resolution, justifying the President and justifying the acts of Sheridan.

Judge Hoar said he intended to do his duty in spite of the clamors of the public press. He supposed the Republican party would support their President, had he knew the President was endeavoring to confine his action strictly within the limit of his constitutional duty. He fully sustained the President and Gen Sheridan.

Mr. Blaine of Maine was called for, but did not respond.

Mr. Townsend of Pennsylvania desired to hear from Mr. Foster, chairman of the New Orleans sub-committee who had just come into the hall, but that gentleman made no response. Mr. Ward of Illinois said he would not be bound by the action of the caucus, but hesitated to do what was necessary to preserve the Republican party and protect all citizens of the United States.

A resolution for the appointment of a committee of nine in accordance with Mr. White's proposition was agreed to, when the caucus adjourned until the report of the committee on Louisiana affairs shall be made and the President's message on that subject be transmitted to Congress.

Schumaker Recalled

Hon John G. Schumaker was recalled. He did not had obtained permission of his client to make certain statements, which he proceeded to do from manuscript. The written statement was to the effect that on the [illegible] May 28th 1872, received from [illegible] [illegible] Irwin his check for $275,000 with instructions to have it broken up into a number of smaller checks. He went to the American bank to get it certified, [illegible] did not meet [illegible] the Postmaster [illegible] [illegible] had nothing to do with his business [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] being unknown to the teller. On the 30th of May the Brooklyn Trust Company broke up a check of $125,000, it being placed to his credit and subsequently with the exception of about $100,000 disbursed by [illegible] checks, and three checks for $50,000 each being drawn on the Marine Bank and sent to the office of the Pacific Mail Company. The same day Stockwell told him that the office of the company was being overrun with people clamorous to be compensated for services they pretended to have rendered in helping to secure the increase of subsidy. The company wanted to [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] requested Schumaker to cash the check for $50,000 to Lynan Elmore and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to distribute it properly. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to be paid to any member [illegible] Stockwell that the company had employed [illegible] and that the money was not intended for any improper uses. Schumaker [illegible] his instructions and in accordance with them [illegible] the check to Lyman Elmore. He [illegible] to Elmore's office in New York [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Washington [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the money [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Smith. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] took no receipt for it. [illegible] given [illegible]

Q. Why?

Q. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Gen Morgan L. Smith.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] $116,000 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] $275,000 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] sent to the Pacific Mail Co [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the three checks for $[illegible] [illegible] Schumaker [illegible] have the $275,000 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Stockwell. No names were given [illegible] [illegible] of various amounts [illegible] [illegible] checks were [illegible] [illegible]. In January [illegible] 1873 [illegible] Stockwell and [illegible] destroyed his checks drawn by himself [illegible] [illegible] the Trust Co. [illegible] [illegible] this time did not know that the [illegible] [illegible] investigation [illegible] this subject [illegible] [illegible] he learned that he was very sorry that he had acceded to Stockwell's request that he had had [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the money.

Mr [illegible] [illegible] indorsement on [illegible] checks except [illegible] own. [illegible] [illegible] impression that there were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] members that the back stumps [illegible] some of them. The witness commenced [illegible] counsel for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in 1871 when [illegible] [illegible] brought against the company in Brooklyn and he came to Washington in the spring of 1872 at the request of the company in order to explain to the Committee on Commerce the nature of Chillis' [illegible] [illegible] statements [illegible] [illegible] which were being made [illegible] its injury. Witness [illegible] [illegible] with the movers of the [illegible] [illegible] he talked with various Congressmen from time to time about one and another so-called Brooks' suits against the company, but nothing to any member of Congress in advocacy of a subsidy [illegible] no contracts with any person and employed no one. He had no conversation with Irwin while here but one [illegible] message from him to Stockwell to the effect that Irwin [illegible] Stockwell to stop sending on hordes of people who took money from Stockwell, but did no good and could only embarrass Irwin's efforts in behalf of the movement. The witness in response to numerous questions explained that he kept no books, never had a ledger, had not for years had a check book [illegible] checks anywhere, kept no record on the stubs and when he wanted to know his bank balance he always had to ask the bookkeeper. At the time witness under took to convey to Elmore the $50,000 check for the company Irwin had left for California and the request made by Mr Stockwell did not seem objectionable and [illegible] that the company wanted the money to be properly disposed of and to go through the hands of people who would not steal it. Witness could not identify the person introduced to him by Elmore as Gen Smith, further than by stating that he recollected that he was a good-looking man, rather darker than ordinary, and had some beard. Witness was further interrogated by Roberts and others.

Mr Dawes asked witness, as he was attorney for the Pacific Mail, how it happened that Irwin paid him. Witness said he also became attorney for Irwin in the fall of 1871, and in addition to attending to the subsidy he transacted other business for him in New York. Elmore told witness the night before last that the Smith who received the money from him was the man of that name who recently died in Jersey City, General Morgan L. Smith.

Mr Kasson asked witness whether he had any information in connection with services in behalf of the subsidy that any portion of the $275,000 heretofore referred to went, or was directed to go to any member or officer of the 42d Congress. Witness replied that he had no such information to which he could swear positively, and in reply to a question of Mr Kellogg witness said he had no information that any clerk or other employe of the House received money. Witness was further asked whether he had knowledge of where any other moneys of the Company other than the $275,000 went to or if intended to any member or officer of the 42d Congress. Witness replied that he had no such knowledge. The examination of witness here closed.

Representative Randall of Pennsylvania was then sworn. As this investigation originated with Randall, who offered the resolution in the House for that purpose, he was asked as to his knowledge of any improper means being made to influence the passage of the subsidy, when he replied that he believed a member of Congress was approached directly and offered a consideration to vote for the subsidy. The member was John E. Storm of Pa., who was offered $1,000 for his vote. He had this information in two ways—one from Geo W. Morgan and the other from Storm himself. It was due to Storm that he never indicated any purpose to vote the subsidy, nor did he vote for the bill. Mr Storm did not tell him from whom the proffer came, but related the fact as if to strengthen his (Randall's) energy in opposition to the bill. The Committee then adjourned until Monday.

The Commonwealth finds [illegible] [illegible] Republican [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

A meeting is called [illegible] the Democratic Committee to be held at the Mansion [illegible] in this city [illegible] Tuesday evening [illegible]—Kennebec Journal.

Among the names of candidates for Congress mentioned for the First New Hampshire District is that of Hon Frank [illegible] of Portsmouth. Mr [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] made a very efficient Mayor of Portsmouth last year.

The Lewiston Journal's Augusta correspondent says:

The prompt disposal of the Senatorial question leaves the Legislature [illegible] [illegible] business like mood and the way it [illegible] business has been approached [illegible] looks as if the Legislature of 75 meant to give public legislation the preference and give private legislation a back seat.

The Augusta correspondent of the Boston Journal says: "The result of the caucus [illegible] [illegible] the election of Mr Hamlin on the 19th inst. The victory that has been achieved may be regarded as a popular reaffirmation of confidence in the honor and integrity of the veteran statesman during his long official life, and an earnest that he is the best representative Republican to aid in the work of elevating the standard of the party, and insuring its unity and perpetuity in Maine."

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

The recommendation of Governor Dingley in his recent message in favor of poor but honest debtors is most certainly worthy of being heeded. That the right of imprisonment for debt should be indiscriminately taken away so as to deprive the creditor of all power to enforce his debt against the rich but dishonest debtor would hardly be regarded by any good citizen as a desirable measure. At the same time the law cannot fix any rule to distinguish between the honest and dishonest class without a trial. The Statute already allows a debtor when arrested to disclose at once without giving bail. But the disclosure costs so much as to impose frequently a heavy tax upon the poor and unfortunate party. Indeed this fact is very frequently taken advantage of to draw from such a sum equal to the cost [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of extortion. It is against this [illegible] of the evil in particular that the Governor would seem to protect the debtor. [illegible] [illegible] would seem to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the disclosure of the debtor [illegible] his arrest or imprisonment [illegible] creditor wish. If the debtor is [illegible] let the creditor pay the expense and costs of debtor to be charged according to the fee bill of a Trial Justice Court. This will remedy the evil to the exact extent that it exists. A. W.

Garlands u[illegible] his grave,
And flowers upon his hearse,
And to th[illegible] der heart and brave
The trib[illegible] of th[illegible] verse

His was the troubled life,
The conflict and the pain,
The grief, the bitterness of strife
The honor without stain

Like Winkelried he took
Into his manly breast
The sheaf of hostile spears and broke
A path for the oppressed,

Then from the fatal field
Upon a nation's heart
Borne like a warrior on his shield!—
So should the brave depart.

Death takes us by surprise
And stays our hurrying feet,
The great design unfinished lies,
Our lives are incomplete

But in the dark unknown
Perfect their circles seem
Even as a bridge's arch of stone
Is rounded in the stream

Alike are life and death,
When life in death survives
And the uninterrupted breath
Inspires a thousand lives

Were a star quenched on high,
For ages would its light,
Still traveling downward from the sky,
Shine on our mortal sight.

So when a great man dies,
For years beyond our ken
The light he leaves behind him lies
Upon the paths of men

CURIOUS APPLES.—Doubts are entertained by some pomologists as regards the truth of the statement made that apples have been grown in which two or more varieties were blended into one, that is, apple having one section sweet and the other sour. We have seen such fruit, and therefore know that it has been produced. A tree bearing apples of this nature formerly stood in a gentleman's garden in Georgetown, Mass. It was of large size and for one years produced several bushels of fruit. The owner sold the apples as curiosities and frequently individual specimens brought large prices. It was exceedingly interesting to examine the crop, as one apple differed widely from another, and there was difficulty in finding two precisely alike. [illegible] one-half was sweet and the opposite sour. But [illegible] were made up differently. Sections, one-quarter, one-sixth, more or less, would be sweet or sour and the remainder would be of the opposite kind. The line of division on the skin was distinctly defined, the sour portion having a reddish color, while the sweet was a pale green. There was no mistaking the flavor, the sour portion was very sour and the sweet very sweet. On the same tree apples grew which were uniform in kind some being entirely sweet and others entirely sour.

This pomological freak was brought about by a careful process of budding, two buds of different varieties being divided, and one half of each joined together so as to adhere and grow. In the bending [illegible] none of this fruit has been [illegible] of late years, we conclude that the tree has perished. [illegible] abundant apple crop in this section the present year has afforded some curious instances of abnormal growths. The crowding of young fruit on the twigs has caused in some instances three or more specimens to grow together and assume fantastic forms, and in one instance it was observed that a large and vigorous apple had so far outstripped its neighbor as to grow completely over and cover it, producing the singular spectacle of an apple within an apple, and both apparently thrifty. In walking through our orchards one morning we were startled by observing upon the trunk of an old Russet tree a little projecting twig bearing a pair with the weight of two good-sized high-colored Baldwins. The puzzle was explained by supposing the original tree to have been of the Baldwin variety, and changed into the Russet by crown grafting.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

Your Constitutional Catarrh Remedy is doing wonders. I took the trouble to see Mr. Chas. T. Morse of this place and give you the facts in his case as I get them from him. At the time of the horse disease his brother was quite sick with it, and took the Remedy which cured him. Charles then commenced taking it for deafness, he having been so deaf since the age of 14 (now being 41) that his family did not converse with him except upon matters of importance. He felt some benefit from the first bottle and now after having taken three, hears better than he ever remembers hearing before in his life. He was so feeble that he could not walk [illegible] to ride home in the bottom of the buggy, and also raised much matter from his lungs. [illegible]

What is That?

It is the science and art of providing the probable length of life of a person—deducing it from his Ancestry, Constitution, the measure in size, form, color, and constitution of its various parts being the signs and Indications of Habits, Location, Residence, Intelligence, Instincts, Health, Age and what ever else, if else there be, which can affect the probabilities of life.

By the application of this science Life Risks can be

TERM LIFE (LABOR TERM) INSURANCE, "NATURAL-PREMIUMS."

What is That?

It is adapted to secure to a family, in case of the decease of the bread winner during the period of his productive labor, an income corresponding to the yearly avails of that labor.

"Natural Premiums" is the true plan of paying the yearly cost, or pay as you go, and put nothing into a company which, both on account of cost and security, may better be kept by the assured.

The TWO SCIENTIFIC IDEAS above named are as yet fully applied only by the AMERICAN

COMPANY,

The idea of GRADING AND RATING Life Risks cannot be applied by any other company already started, since, if it should adopt the method of grading, the best risks now insured in it would of course drop their present policies to take out better ones, to wit, at the lower premiums to which they are entitled, but the inferior risks would stay and pay the premiums so much less than they ought to be for them.

The idea of Term-Life "Natural Premiums" is not applied by the other companies, because, as they say, they would not, on their "average" plan of taking all insured persons at the same premiums, get enough to cover the expense of their numerous losses.

Hence, all other companies "make faces" at the American Popular, and "call names," about which it does not care a fig, if it can only, as it does, secure the approbation of the scientific and thoughtful, and the patronage of the probably long lived.
